Bankers' Association Meeting in St. Louis Today.

The Czar and Czarina Right Royally Welcomed in England Today.

Imperial Party Met at Leith By the Prince of Wales.

Extraordinary Precautions Taken to Ward Off Any Dynamite Plot.

Leith, Scotland, Sept. 22.—(Copyright 1896, by the Associated Press)—The Russian yachts Standard and Pole Star were sighted at the entrance of the Firth of Forth at 10:30 this morning and the news was immediately telegraphed to the prince of Wales, who was in charge of the arrangements for the reception of the czar and czarina, and who will accompany the Russian visitors to Balmoral. The prince of Wales, the duke of Connaught, M. de Saal, the Russian ambassador to the court of St. James; Lord Rosebery, and a number of high officials attended at 10 o'clock and were received by an escort of Edinburgh dragoons. Rain was falling heavily, the sky and general surroundings were most forbidding, but the prince of Wales and his suite of 1000 persons crowded the way to the docks and greeted the arrival of the prince with the greatest enthusiasm. The prince of Wales was the unit of the Kief dragons and the duke of Connaught was in the uniform of the Scots guards. After inspection of the reception route the czar and czarina, the duke of Buceleuch and the countess of Lymington and embarked on board the Tantallon Castle. The steamers that had brought the royal yachts on their arrival were saluted by the fleet and immediately dropped anchor. The Tantallon Castle, a ship of war, ran alongside the Standard, the latter having their Russian standards on board. The prince of Wales, the duke of Connaught and M. de Saal, the Russian ambassador to the court of St. James; Lord Rosebery, and a number of high officials attended at 10 o'clock and were received by an escort of Edinburgh dragoons. Cablegram From the International Agricultural Congress Sitting at Budapest.

Bryan's Election Is Necessary to Save the World From Disorder.

Farmers of America and Europe Robbed By Asia's Gold Premium.

New York, Sept. 22.—The World prints a special cablegram from Budapest, Hungary, which follows: "The following cable message, signed by delegates to the international congress, called at Budapest, by the Hungarian minister of agriculture, has been sent to the Democratic candidate for president of the United States:

"William Jennings Bryan, Headquarters Democratic Party, Chicago, Ill.: We, the undersigned members of the international agricultural congress convened at Budapest, wish you success in your struggle against the domination of the creditor class, which during the past twenty years has secured, both in America and in Europe, monetary legislation destructive of the prosperity of your farmers and others.

"Should you be victorious in November, the gold premium throughout all Asia and South America will continue to rob the farmer equally of America and Europe of all rewards for his toil and that your nation may avert from the world serious agricultural and social tribulations now pending."

COUNT ALEXANDER KAROLYI, President Hungarian Chamber of Commerce.

D. BAUDUIN, President Society of Agriculture in Holland.

ALPHONSE ALLARD, Administrator Central Chamber of Agriculture in Belgium.

TYNAN'S APPEAL.

Writes to Ambassador Eustis to Fight Extradition.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The United States ambassador to France, James B. Eustis, has received a letter from P. J. Tynan, the alleged dynamite conspirator now in custody at Boulogne-Sur-Mer, dated Sept. 15. Tynan, who had arrived in the United States on March, 1883, that shortly after England demanded his extradition, and that the United States refused to extradite him, as the offense alleged was purely political. In 1888, Tynan continued, he was naturalized by Judge Duff. He was arrested with his wife, Mrs. Tynan, and two servants in a villa on the Hudson, and he referred to Judge Fitzgerald and Judge Roger A. Pryor as his friends. Referring to his trial in New York, this time Tynan states that he left New York on a European tour and that upon being informed that he was to be tried by a French court he traveled under an assumed name to Italy, Belgium and France and was booked to return to New York by the Salle, sailing from Paris on Sept. 20.

Further, Tynan pledged his honor that he had not taken part in any affairs of a political nature in England, and that he had not done anything of the ordinary sight-seeing and observation of the common American tourist. He appeals to Mr. Eustis to intercede with the French government to render him to England, as such a surrender, he adds, would mean certain death to him.

In his letter Tynan writes: "I am sure that the garran nation that Irishmen gave Fenian to blazon on their banners will help England by my surrender. If you will guarantee, upon my request, your executive upon the French government you will not only receive my thanks, but that of millions of the people of this state."

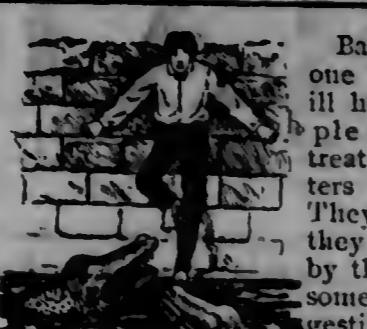

Mr. Eustis immediately notified the French government of the receipt of the letter and the fact that Tynan is an American, and the French embassy here has not yet received from London the formal warrant for Tynan's extradition.

MUNICIPAL SOCIETY MEETS.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 22.—The ten-cent annual meeting of the American Municipal Association, with a special order in this city today by President J. G. Shortall, with several hundred delegates present, representing all the principal cities of the country. After an address of welcome by Mr. Hobart E. McKisson of Cleveland the annual reports of the society and treasures of the organization were read. Rev. Stephen D. D., of this city, then made an address.

NORTH CAROLINA FUSION.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—At an early hour this morning the Democratic, Populist and silver parties agreed to fuse or a broad electoral ticket. The North Carolinians, the Populists making the strongest, the remainder. This union of all the silver elements, it is claimed, insures the state to the Democratic ticket by a large majority.

SYRUP of Figs

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of physical painlessness and health are to be had, simply to a constituted condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with which families and individuals are ever satisfied—so gently, so healthfully, who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organism, which means, is of great importance, in order to put its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company and sold by all the best drug houses.

DR. RAVEN'S WILD SPICE.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—The Post Dispatch this afternoon says that Dr. H. W. Dunraven, who states that he has been ill for a week, and has been confined to his bed, in the central police station, where he had been badly beaten up in a house on the 21st, has been released.

WEST END

County Candidates to Meet the West Duluth Republican Club.

Scandinavian Republican Club Was Organized
Last Evening.

Mayor Truelson and H. L.
Chaffee Will Talk Silver
Tomorrow Night.

The West Duluth Republican club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at headquarters. At the last meeting of the club a resolution was passed to extend an invitation to the Republican county candidates to meet with the club and these gentlemen have accordingly been notified of the action of the club. It is expected therefore that they will be present tomorrow evening to shake hands with the members of the club and to make their little speeches. The Scandinavian Republican club was organized yesterday at the county Republican headquarters. The meeting was presided over by P. P. Fjellman, the county committee man of the Eighth ward, and by C. Erickson, who secretary. A committee consisting of P. J. Borgstrom, Gust Wedan and A. J. Melhus was appointed to make a constitution and by-laws. After the organization was completed speeches were made by P. J. Borgstrom, Pastor Alquist, W. N. Severance and Judge S. F. White.

Mayor Truelson will speak at the sittings on Wednesday evening in connection with H. L. Chaffee, of the Minneapolis. They will speak at the West Duluth meeting, as the regular Friday meeting will be held as usual meeting the good citizens to settle their work. The tent was furnished with a stove today and hereafter it will be made comfortable for those who attend.

AN EJECTMENT SUIT.

Squatters Claim Possession of Some Land.

Judge Brown in district court this morning was hearing the case of the Norton estate against Barbara Datke and a number of Polish settlers on two lots of the Norton estate between Seventh and Ninth streets and Seventh and Eighth avenue east. The suit is to eject the defendants from the lots. This is a Polish settlement on several blocks of this property, made twenty years ago. The Polish settlers are squatters there, but the Nortons claim they are now, and the squatters claim that having had the property possessed by them for twenty years, they are now its owners.

There is now pending a trial to clear title to the whole settlement brought by the Nortons against the Norton estate.

The case is important, for the property is worth in the neighborhood of $40,000. The result of the trial will determine in what direction the suit in ejectment may depend the title to several blocks of city property.

Tales morning J. L. Washburn, who was commanding the 10th N. Y. Cavalry, was looking like misfortune for one of the squatters named Trader who was on the stand. The name of one of Simon Silvers was brought out on the examination.

"Ah, that is the man I've been looking for," said Mr. Washburn triumphantly. "He is not a Polock, is he?"

"No, he is not," said the Lawyer.

"Well, isn't it a fact that there is an agreement between counsel, Sullivan and you, that you are to recover the whole question if you win? Hasn't?"

The witness started as though Mr. Washburn's abrupt question had hit him. He looked troubled, scurried glared at his counsel, who interposed a chorus of objections which were overruled. At length he turned to the witness to see what he knew.

"Yes, there is," said Mr. Trader subtly and reluctantly.

The case was still on trial at noon and was expected to take some time to finish.

In view of the suit by H. R. Buckley against the board of trade, the jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the full amount—$3671—for the plaintiff.

The jury in the criminal case against him, the former manager, was discharged and him guilty yesterday afternoon and recommended him to the mercy of the court.

The suit against Frank Gray, charged with malicious destruction of property in throwing a stone through a saloon window on Lake avenue, was given to a jury at noon.

TO BEGIN

Council Decides to Inaugurate Work on the Water Plant.

Contract For Steel Pipe For the Main Let to N. F. Hugo.

Long Discussion Over the Manner of Selecting the Laborers.

The council last evening decided to begin the work on the water plant at once and awarded the contract to N. F. Hugo for furnishing the steel pipe, but it took nearly three hours of talk to do it, and almost every alderman took a hand in it and some of them took more than a hand.

When a resolution was reported by the waterworks committee recommending that the contract for furnishing and laying the main water pipe be let to F. Hugo for $117,222.12 the fight began, and it continued merrily from that time on.

Alderman Krumseig wanted to know if there was not a bid in for about $9000 less. Alderman Harker told him that Mr. Haupt, of the Ironton company, had informed him that the company had not arrived as the company had anticipated and he would be forced to award the seven contracts to the Ironton people. Alderman Krumseig wanted to know who in the city could make the pipe if the Ironton people did not, and he asked that the matter be left to him.

Another resolution intended to follow this was then read. It provided that when N. F. Hugo had made contract with the Ironton Steel company for steel plates for the pipe, that the cost of the plates be paid by the city and deducted from Mr. Hugo's estimates.

Alderman Krumseig, counseled against, acting hastily, said it was a big contract and the city did not want to rush into it. We may not get another payment on the bonds, and it would be difficult to handle this ourselves. The board of public works should do it just as I am doing, a contract. Committee said I was not making the best results.

At this point Alderman Nelson wanted to hear from the mayor, who he said, had considerable experience in dealing with this same question a few years ago.

Alderman Krumseig was on his feet in an instant as though shot out of a catapult object. He said, "We need not contract with the Ironton company to keep the public works from doing this ourselves."

"I would like to know if you don't think the Ironton company is a reputable citizen," said Alderman Krumseig emphatically. "It is nothing more nor less."

"It looks like another hard deal," said Alderman Sane, "in which the city is to get worsted to the extent of $9000." At this salutary cross behind the railing appeared a dignified.

It was finally decided to give Mr. Haupt a chance to appear. This he did after a few words, and the matter was again taken up.

MR. HAUPT HEARD.

Mr. Haupt was given the floor, and with body language as though by this time he favored employing an inspector, but from his argument it seemed that his idea of the inspector's job was to make the public works pay to have the inspection done.

A resolution was passed that the machinery for the main water pipe construction should be $150 a day for men, $2 for men and teams and $30 a month for foremen was passed.

The public works committee voted to empower the board of public works to make purchases of supplies not to exceed $15 in cost while receiving payment for the work done.

The resolution guaranteeing the payment of Hugo's bill for the work taken back by the city was passed. Alderman Haupt told the aldermen they would put their foot in it if they adopted that before the contract was signed, and action was deferred.

The board of public works was directed to begin work on the trenches and prepare for the main water plant at once. This was not agreed to, but after a little discussion.

Another large dose of talk was intended to the resolution providing for the class of labor to be employed on the waterworks construction. This was designed to give the work to men who have been born in the city, and the months and are heads of families, and provided for an inspection to determine the truth of the statements which they made.

Chester Terrace.

We wish to let the winter (or summer) if desired, two houses in Chester Terrace. These houses are supplied with ranges and are heated by steam from a central plant. The rent asked, heat included, is about what the cost will cost per month for the ordinary house, less dwelling. Each house has 10 rooms conveniently arranged, with all modern appliances, in splendid condition, the service is excellent and the neighborhood is the best. The people who occupy the other houses in the row are a sufficient comment on the accuracy of our statements. At the present time there are the cheapest houses in the city. If we cannot get what we ask for the two remaining houses our mind now is to take what we can get.

made their applications. These are to be made in writing and are to be on file with the board.

Alderman Nelson said there are many single men who are anxious and want them provided for. After talking the employment of single men who have lived here three months was proposed for.

Then Alderman Olson turned the talk in another direction and it went mostly to him. He objected to the employer and their word ought to be sufficient. He said they ought to look after it.

KRUMSEIG, PAUL.

Alderman Krumseig sat on this idea good and hard. "Have this work done right and properly," said he, "and we may have more political friends out of it, and let the employer recommend the men to be employed with the confidence of the public, and if they do not do their work they must be discharged." The first named appraiser from the auction block said the same.

Alderman Crandall had rather agreed of Alderman Olson's idea, except that he was not in the recommendation of the business men in the city. He said Alderman Krumseig, denying that he had ever thought of political influence with the employer, in order to cure it, was for the condemnation of property. "Thirty-fourth avenue east is the first example. The payment of the tax was authorized.

The other named appraiser was authorized to ask for bids for wiring the attorney.

City Attorney Bernham reported that the city had awarded a bid of $264.48 as the price for the city to pay for the condemnation of property on Thirty-fourth avenue east for the example. The payment of the tax was authorized.

The other named appraiser was authorized to ask for bids for wiring the attorney.

CATARACH CANNOT BE CURED.

With local applications, as they are, cannot cure the seat of the disease. As he had had over thought of political influence with the employer, in order to cure it, was for the condemnation of property. "Thirty-fourth avenue east is the first example. The payment of the tax was authorized.

The other named appraiser was authorized to ask for bids for wiring the attorney.

ALDERMAN SANE.

Alderman Krumseig sat on this idea good and hard. "Have this work done right and properly," said he, "and we may have more political friends out of it, and let the employer recommend the men to be employed with the confidence of the public, and if they do not do their work they must be discharged." So Far Has Directed the New York Democratic Committee.

But a Big Dispute Is on Among the Notification Committee.

Trouble Is Expected Monday Night Unless Thacher Explains His Position.

New York, Sept. 22.—There is a difference of opinion among members of the State Democratic committee as to the significance of the resolution adopted at last night's meeting, creating a committee of five to visit Mr. Thacher, the nominee for governor. Norton Chase, Mr. Thacher's friend and sponsor, said: "The text of the resolution has been misquoted. It simply called for the committee to go to Albany and notify Mr. Thacher that he is nominated. It is not a nominating committee in any sense of the word."

Norman E. Mack and State Committeeman Smith of Buffalo were asked when they viewed the resolution.

Mr. Mack said: "It was voted clearly the intent of the resolution

WEST END

Entertainment to Be Given at Great Eastern Hall Friday.

It is to Be in Honor of Rev. Father Corbett.

Musical Program and an Oyster Supper Will Be Given.

The members of St. James Catholic church will give an entertainment and reception at Great Eastern hall next Friday evening in honor of Rev. Father Corbett, who is leaving for the East next week. Father Corbett has been here but a short time, but he has endeared himself greatly to the church and the entertainment is arranged as a public farewell to him. As the reverend gentleman has made many acquaintances among non-Catholics an invitation is given to all to attend. A fine musical program will be given and an oyster supper will also be served, prepared by the ladies of the church.

THAT "JOINT DEBATE."

The Facts About Judge Morris' Latest Flunk.

To the Editor of the Herald:

The lengths to which the News Tribune will go and is going to misrepresent Mr. Towne are among the surest presages of the latter's victory. The very simplest thing is twisted so as to make it look like a lie, and then strike at him, and the latest concoction of this kind is so palpably rotten and unjust toward Mr. Towne that I cannot refrain from a few words.

Under the caption, "He Wants Crowd" in the issue of this morning, the News Tribune accuses him of being a part in the advertising of a "Joint debate" when he knew such debate would not and could not take place. As a matter of fact, Mr. Towne did hold a joint debate, and it is ignorant as Mr. Morris of a "joint debate" between them on Sept. 25. The facts are these: Some time ago, Mr. Towne, Mr. Goodell, Mr. C. G. Goodell of Barnum, representing silver, and C. A. Mackey, editor of the Cleopet Pine Knot, representing monogram, met at the Barnum fair on the very question at the Barnum fair. All were agreed that it would be an excellent thing. Blameless and monogrammers alike agreed that it would befit it to have the fair, but it would help their respective sides. Who the speakers would be was not known, but, of course, said sides was known to the two speakers. When Mr. Towne spoke at Clouston, he was assisted by Mr. Goodell and Mr. Anderson, of Barnum, and the two sides were more or less equally spoken at the fair. He readily agreed, in the presence of Mr. Mackey, but no opponent was specified, being manifestly the duty of the chairman to see that the two natural and logical one was Mr. Morris. However, with an agreement to speak, and Mr. Towne's connection with the speakers, it is to be noted that Mr. Morris has been coupled with him, he knows nothing of it and cares less, as he expressed his perfect willingness to speak any time, and the gold men might select. Right here, where the difficulty arose. The gold men were astonished and dismayed when they found that they were represented by two who had been cut out three times, thereby having been five times in it during the way to squirm out of it and avoid the meeting.

The News Tribune simply lies when it says that the Democrats and Populists advertised a meeting between Judge Morris and Mr. Towne. Morris' "some up to the mark" not a Republican speaker, as you will see by copy of handbill enclosed. If "neither Judge Morris nor his supporters ever heard of Mr. Towne on Saturday, who pretend to be pushing Judge Morris' campaign up here must be singularly negligent in their duties. As a matter of fact, Judge Morris' supporters of whom he has spoken here on Tuesday, Sept. 15, as the bills were taken right from the press and shown to him. That is the time to speak, and from the contest, if he desired so to do. But he let it pass, and later on the details began coming in, in the hope of in some way scoring a point against the man they all fear—Charles A. Towne, Yours, etc.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department weather bureau's annual Synopsis of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending at 12 a.m. (Central time), Sept. 22-23, 1886, shows that the weather moved to the Ohio valley and lower lakes, carrying frosts as far south as St. Louis, the frost having passed at Chicago and killing frost at Detroit.

The weather has continued fair in all these states, though there has been a decided change to warmer in Manitoba, the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, the region north of Minnesota, the mountains, temperatures generally ranging from 50 to 70.

Duluth temperature at 7 a.m. today, 42; maximum yesterday, 50; minimum yesterday, 36.

Look forecast for Duluth and vicinity: Fair and warmer tonight; showers and cooler by Thursday. On the upper lakes: Lake Superior: High southwest winds and rain. Lake Michigan: Fair weather. Lakes Michigan and Huron: Fair weather; increasing south to southwest winds; signals for southwest gales are displayed on Lake Michigan, Superior and Pepp.

THE TWO MILLSTONES.

An interesting story relative to the acceptance of goldbugs to coerce those who have borrowed money to vote for the gold standard is related by an ex-changer, Clarence Griggs, of the law office of George H. Hinckley of the court of Common Pleas of the county. Clarence Griggs, a man of the Hinckley office, was a leader in the silver movement. He had a large correspondence with Governor Granahan, who is a gold standard man, and Granahan is a blimmin' man. When Griggs wrote he said:

"I have understood that you were very active in the free silver movement. As a business proposition, this is a bad thing for you. If this interest is not paid and Bryan is elected, I will demand it my duty, in the interest of my client, to declare a forfeiture and immediately foreclose, so as to get either the property or the same kind of money which we gave to you. This same line of reasoning applies to the man in your position, and while I know that the labor class, so called, think that the success of the free silver movement is going to be favorable to them, I know that it will crush them out of existence. Your own case is a sample. It would work oppression to you in these times to demand the money and foreclose, but you can see how all holders of mortgages would want either land or good money for their debts. This is, of course, irrespective of the question as to whether Bryan would give us silver or not. The men who have the money are afraid to let us have it, and they will not rely either upon prophecy or history for their guidance as to what the currency of this country will be when the free silver agitation is successful."

But this threat did not frighten Granahan a little bit. He is something of a hater within himself, and when he received Griggs' letter he seized his trenchant typewriter and wrote a few words on his own account. This is what he wrote:

"In your threat to foreclose you do not say that your client demands the same kind of money that you gave, but you will deem it your duty in the interests of your client, what do you mean by the same kind of money? You gave me a check for the balance after taking up the old mortgage, and I possess the holder of that also got a check. You will hardly demand that I pay you with a check made of the same kind of paper. You doubtless do mean that I shall pay you dollars of the same purchasing power. I did not, to my knowledge, sign a contract to regulate the rates of commerce, and the average price would be the same when I paid the money as when I borrowed it."

"If foreclosure depends upon Bryan's election, you had better begin at once, for it is generally admitted that it is all done but the counting and ratification. If McKinley is elected and this gold dollar is made any better, or retains its present value, no mortgage can be paid. John Sherman is in favor of the dollar that will purchase the most of the necessities of life, and I presume the rest of the Republicans are of his opinion. That being the case, the policy of the party will be to further increase that purchasing power, and when will be 25 cents a bushel, instead of 50 cents, with other products in a 'parity.' So, you see, no matter how it goes, we are bound to be crushed in defense of the people's rights."

WHO ARE THEY?

The Hinckley Enterprise publishes the following astonishing statement:

"Presuming upon the fact of assistance rendered during the great Hinckley fire, Duluth parties are addressing personal letters to voters who received relief, requesting them as a personal favor, and in return for relief work by the writers, to cast a vote for Judge Morris, the Republican candidate for congress. The Hinckley Enterprise is doing the same. The gold standard organizes point to the fact that railroad bonds are payable in gold and claims that under free silver these roads would be bankrupted by the enormous premium that would be put upon silver. The fact is that nearly one-third of the railroad mileage of the United States is now in the hands of receivers. Why is this? Because these railroads have watered the stock to such a degree that it is an impossibility for them to pay interests and dividends. And the gold standard press is seeking to lead the people who have to pay freight rates into voting for a system that will enable these great corporations to pay dividends on stocks that are now worthless."

The Chicago company invested $4,000,000 in bulked the stock of the company out of $15,000,000. That is the kind of financing that the gold standard advocates ask the people to endorse. But, says the World-Herald, it is the kind of financing that Claude Duryea managed for engaging in, and just such financing brought Jack Sheppard to the hangman's noose. These eminent knights of the road were honest men compared with the men who sell heaven's pure and fresh air; and the earth's free water under the guise of railroad stocks.

The Herald has been aware for some time that the goldbugs were getting desperate and would resort to any methods, no matter how despicable, to avert, if possible, their impending ruin at the polls, but it never thought for one moment that they would descend to such low depths as the above extract from the Hinckley Enterprise indicates.

The people of Duluth, as a whole, will be disposed to use the goldbugs have presented to us the aid generously extended to us by the fire sufferers as a reason why the Hinckley Enterprise supports the goldbug ticket, and if this Herald does not mistake the temper of our people they will be roused to indignation by this outrageous act.

The Enterprise fails to give the names of those who have been guilty of this insult. In justice to the vast majority of the people of Duluth, who have no sympathy with such tactics and who are not disposed to silently permit such a taunt to rest upon the city's generous deeds, the Enterprise should publish the names of those who have written such letters, so that our people may deal with them as the circumstances demand. Who are they?

CHARACTERISTIC POLL.

The editor of a gold organ in New York sent out ten reporters one morning to take polls in various parts of the city. "The one who makes the best report gets a raise of salary," said he. Nine of the reporters went through shops and saloons, and called on the men who were most prominent and influential.

The tenth reporter was never published. The tenth was a showman. He interviewed the first and second cabin passengers on a big ocean liner. He went to the Manhattan, the Milwaukee, the Van Reeselaer, the Union League and the Thordyke clubs; he polled the Hotel Savoy, the Waldorf and the Buckingham. He boarded a few private yachts and made note of the owner's political opinions. He spent an hour or two on the stock exchange, went through the Mills building and the Mutual Life palace. He attended a directors' meeting of the Shoe and Leather trust and he picked up straw at the places where a piece of stock cost $100.

Next morning the paper contained the item: "A reporter for the Vlupitaper Journal writes: 'If the state, as it ought, should run down some of the rascals (so to speak) the guilty ones might be apprehended. I heard this morning that a man, to me well known, whose name I could give, had confessed to me that he was one of the men who helped pull the rope. The story may be false, and yet the man answers the description given of one of the leaders by Jafor Waddell.'"

The Journal says: "This is only sample of the rumors that are current in Waddell county, all of which go to show that with the slightest encouragement from the state the guilty ones might be apprehended. I heard this morning that a man, to me well known, whose name I could give, had confessed to me that he was one of the men who helped pull the rope. The story may be false, and yet the man answers the description given of one of the leaders by Jafor Waddell."

PULLMAN'S BOSOM FRIEND.

The following dispatch to a goldbug organ in Boston will be cheering news to the many friends of the great philanthropist who run the lodges houses on wheels and make the public pay the price of the porters.

"It is reported on good authority that Gen. Horace Porter is slated for a second term in the cabinet in case of McKinley's election. There are thoughts to be good reasons why, in a campaign of 'education' Mark Hanna should recognize a man with the powerful influence of Gen. Porter. Funds are necessary to carry on the warfare. Gen. Porter, as a prominent member of the Union League club and the friend of the Vandebilt, George M. Pullman, J. P. Morgan and a host of Wall street men, is admitted to be a good recruit to enlist in the cabinet. Since the active work in the campaign began Gen. Porter has delivered many stirring speeches for McKinley. He participated in the Vermont gubernatorial contest and visited most of the leading cities in the state. It is known that Gen. Porter has long been a personal friend and admirer of Mr. McKinley, while he adds to the probability of the correctness of this report that states him for certain position."

In St. Louis county jail he two young men convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death. They committed a brutal murder for the purpose of robbery. It was a premeditated act and without a single extenuating feature. These young men were sentenced months ago. The date of their execution remains to be fixed by the governor, but weeks have passed, since the time he should have performed this sentence, and he has done nothing. Vague hints have been dropped that he intends to go to the gallows himself and invite further cases of lynching. This is the kind of conduct that Governor Clough is going to be blamed for, giving attention to such minor matters."

The following dispatch to a goldbug organ in Boston will be cheering news to the many friends of the great philanthropist who run the lodges houses on wheels and make the public pay the price of the porters.

"It is reported on good authority that Gen. Horace Porter is slated for a second term in the cabinet in case of McKinley's election. There are thoughts to be good reasons why, in a campaign of 'education' Mark Hanna should recognize a man with the powerful influence of Gen. Porter. Funds are necessary to carry on the warfare. Gen. Porter, as a prominent member of the Union League club and the friend of the Vandebilt, George M. Pullman, J. P. Morgan and a host of Wall street men, is admitted to be a good recruit to enlist in the cabinet. Since the active work in the campaign began Gen. Porter has delivered many stirring speeches for McKinley. He participated in the Vermont gubernatorial contest and visited most of the leading cities in the state. It is known that Gen. Porter has long been a personal friend and admirer of Mr. McKinley, while he adds to the probability of the correctness of this report that states him for certain position."

COUNTY ROAD BIDS.

McDonnell's Bid Claimed to Be
Not the Lowest.

Will you kindly correct a statement made in your issue of Sept. 22, regarding the bids for construction of county roads. Mr. McDonnell's bid for the total work exceeds $800,000, while the total amount of lowest bids taken section by section is $750,000. The lowest bid for the entire county is $650,000.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM H. RANDALL,
Duluth, Sept. 23.

Authoritative Statements.

There is scarcely an issue of the News Tribune lately that does not contain in its Supreme column some statement in reference to the Supreme Court's inspection and elevator master, "reported on good authority." So far it has failed to state who these "authoritative statements" are, but these authoritative statements have come in from the Senate of some sort usually accompanies them as a sort of "hedge" as it were.

It's First Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. P. E. Schulin, one of the oldest residents of New Independence, which occurred on Sunday last, was the first one that the new church had to perform. The cemetery building was dedicated by a deacon to serve the interests of the city. The walls of the building are light and the galleries will reinforce them and do much service as a bier.

Will Be Hired Friday.

The board of public works desires to have it understood that no men will be taken on for work on the new water plant, or for the supervision of the purchases as foremen, timekeepers and inspectors are in excess of the demand.

Commissioners Dispose of the Road Bonds to E. H.
Gay & Co.

County Paid a Commission of Ten Per Cent or $14,000.

The Deal Was Consummated
Yesterday Afternoon—
Gay to Give a Bond.

The county road bonds are to be sold for a commission of 10 per cent.
This action was taken at the meeting of the board of commissioners held yesterday afternoon, and E. H. Gay & Co., the Boston bond holders, who have taken the city's issue of water bonds, are the parties who have agreed to dispose of the bonds.

The Herald stated last evening the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon was for the purpose of receiving a proposal for the disposal of the bonds, which was held at 11 o'clock to take the bonds to the bank in time to allow Commissioner Moreau to take the train back to Tower.

The proposition referred to by The Herald was made by E. H. Gay & Co., who offered to sell the city's $14,000 of 4 per cent 20-year road bonds for $14,000, the bonds to be delivered in August, 1897, and $4000 on Feb. 1, 1897, and $5000 on March 1, 1897. The company reserves the right to take up any or all of the bonds prior to the time specified if it desires.

For this service the county is to pay Gay & Co. $14,000. Gay & Co. agree to pay $14,000 for the bonds and $5000 in cash to the city. The company will also allow $500 for expenses and services in selling the bonds.

If this deal goes through, as it probably will next Monday, the bids for the Miller Trunk road will be reduced to make estimation and all the bids for payable date.

The board also allowed $500 for the construction of a bridge.

Commissioner Miller moved to accept the proposition, but the board would not do so, and the money was to be used to build a bridge across the river, which would provide a street to the northern end of the bridge, and would improve the street.

The company was anxious to have the work commenced, and the commissioners agreed to let the work go on.

The board completed at the earliest possible date. The council refused to do this, however, and with claiming a good reason, claiming that the city should be put to no expense until it was certain that the bridge would be built.

work go on.

SETTLED

The Legal Tangle Between the Northern Pacific and Its Feeders.

Chicago & Northern Pacific to Be Sold Soon and Reorganized.

Must Bring $10,000,000-- Knotty Legal Question Definitely Disposed of.

Milwaukee, Sept. 22.—The complicated meshes growing out of the reorganization of the Northern Pacific, the Chicago & Northern Pacific and the Wisconsin Central lines, in which all have preferred claims and counter claims, have been amicably settled, and the Chicago & Northern Pacific will soon follow the Northern Pacific. It is stated a plan of reorganization has been perfected and that the notice of the sale of the road under a decree of Judge Jenkins, will shortly be issued. Henry W. Bishop, in charge of the affairs of the circuit court for the northern district of Illinois, will sell the property. The road must bring $10,000,000, the purchasers in addition assuming two million dollars of the debts of the Chicago & Northern Pacific, and the other two either to Edwin A. Abbott, and John A. Stewart, for $34,000, together with minor obligations. The sale will take place in the steps of the Cook county court house at such a time as Mr. Bishop may appoint. In the selection of the date for the sale Mr. Bishop will be governed by the wishes of the reorganization committee.

The terms of the agreement between the Chicago & Northern Pacific and the Northern Pacific and the Wisconsin Central lines will probably never be made public, but in taking the dispute out of court the parties have now settled the casting of one of the knottiest questions, the settlement of which railroad and corporation attorneys have been watching with a great deal of interest.

SILVER AT CLOQUET.

An Enthusiastic Meeting Addressed by A. R. Merritt.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—Last evening A. R. Merritt, of Duluth, spoke here in favor of bimetallism. Mr. Merritt introduced himself with the statement that he had come to his knowledge by an encounter, and he did so. Cloquet was the first to have ever called a meeting of his state and Washington delegates to make a speech to the members of the corporation to the steel dam. The American Bankers Association has the money, they should send Mr. Merritt, and a few more like him, round the state. It would make more money, more votes, and a great deal of thousands.

The audience was not large, from the fact that the silver men could not afford to have the expense of which was served for the world, but the audience followed Mr. Merritt with close attention for two hours, and there gave three times three for Charles A. Towne.

HIDDEN EXPLOSIVES.

Found in a Russian Jew Residence Part of London.

London, Sept. 22.—It transpired today that the explosive, which was discovered in a house which was discovered on Monday hidden in the hollow of a pillar on Stamford street, which is inhabited by Russian Hebrews who are suspected of terrorism. The police are now actively searching the premises in that neighborhood.

ROPE SEVEN MILES LONG.

The longest rope ever used for hauling purposes has just been made for a dirigible, which is to be used in the air. The rope was 7 miles long, four and five-eighths inches in circumference and weighs nearly sixty tons. It has been made in one continuous and unbroken strand and will be coiled when in place. It will form a complete circle around Glasgow, crossing the Clyde, and will run at a speed of fifteen miles an hour.

A GOOD THING.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The summer resort hotel proprietor chuckled softly to himself. "They tell me that he is a good man, the weather is fine, the last week has been simply glorious."

"I have clasped his hands together after the manner of a man who thinks he knows a good thing when he sees it."

"I have noticed it particularly because I've been so busy, but I guess they're right."

"Yes, sir," said the clerk, looking up.

"Under the very bill you make out for the weather we've had. We can't afford to throw in anything of this sort at regular rates."

OVERPULLED HER OBJECTIONS.

On a third avenue car this morning, an inoffensive young man sat on the back seat, looking out the window. He was a Cabbage brandy, says the New York Mail and Express. As Grand Street a little, with a few women, he turned his head. She said her fare in pennies and then turned upon the young man.

"I ain't a lady, either," said the young man, pulling his coat over his shoulders.

"I only wish your father was here," ejaculated the young man.

"Lum, sir, I ain't," said the young man, "seen it leap year."

The passengers laughed and the conductor said nothing. She was angry. She began to abuse the conductor and threatened to report him.

"Why, I don't know," asked the conductor placidly.

"You may put that man off wrathfully demanded the woman. "He's smoking."

"It has the right to smoke," said the conductor. "Read that sign." The woman read, and then, with a very red face, said: "You have got to stop smoking."

"I am really a director of the car," said the young man.

The woman said: "I am the car."

"I am really a director of the Mail and Express," concluded the oil man.

BANKER'S ASSOCIATION.

Many Subjects Discussed at Today's Meeting.

"ONLY THE FIREMAN."

But a Vast Difference in the Point of View.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—President Fulton was prompt in calling the second day's session of the American Bankers' association to order today, but only half the delegates were in their seats when Archbishop J. J. Kain made the opening prayer. The banker stopped in the hotel office as expecting some one. Suddenly his face lighted up as a young fellow entered the room and entered the room, says the Chicago Tribune.

The first order of business was the calling of the rolls of the state for reports of the banking interests in the various localities.

S. H. Harmer, of Helena, Ark., reported money conditions in his state better since the cotton crop began to stand.

F. Tracy of Milwaukee, Ill., reported all the banks of Chicago in the year of the free silver sentiment in the country and smaller towns and said the banking interests were doing what they could to meet our complaints.

Mrs. Wood Visiting Here.

Mrs. Julia A. A. Wood, the author and proprietor of the "Woman's Review," is here. Mrs. Wood, who is well known in the literary world under the nom de plume of "Mme. Mary Lee," was in the city this week visiting her son, Dr. Louis Wood, a surgeon and a famous man. Mrs. Wood is the author of several books, and is one of the old settlers of Minnesota, having located at St. Paul in 1856, when she was receiver of the United States land office under the administration of Franklin Pierce. They first located at St. Anthony Falls, now Minneapolis, in 1856.

The lectures being given at the cathedral this week by the Pauline fathers for non-Catholics are being largely attended. The audience last evening was very large, and the questions asked and answered were very interesting. The subject this evening is one of great importance to non-Catholics, and will be followed by Father Youman. The subject is the "Confessional."

John Christie, V. E. Ross and W. H. Brady, three drunks, were released without damages suspended by Judge Doyle today.

The Second Ward Towne club will meet Friday evening at the court house, and will be presided over by a number of well-known men.

The Lakeside ladies will have dinner at 7:30 p.m. at 23 West Michigan street.

A marriage license has been issued to John Peterson and Ingberg Erickson.

In the name of the receivership of the Great Western Manufacturing Company, Judge Brown has allowed two creditors to file their proofs of claims after the time for doing so had expired. The creditors are J. L. Dodge, worth $27,000, and Dr. D. A. Allen, whose claim is $10,000, and they showed that they had never received notice of the order fixing the time for filing proofs of claim.

Kelly's house is now in a clean, tidy condition, and is well worth the money.

George Wilson, a tailor on the steamship Alaska, whilst at work yesterday, slipped and sprained his ankle.

The following deaths have been reported: Mrs. A. H. Ingelheim, 70 years of age, widow of Rudolph Ingelheim, 1017 East Seventh street, on Saturday.

THE TRUTH

Candid Facts as to the French Meeting Last Night.

La Sarre Refused to Talk on the Issue of the Campaign.

Crowd Left the Hall and Listened to J. Bureau Outside.

As a specimen of the fraud and misrepresentation which the News Tribune and the gold standard managers are practicing in this campaign, the reporter on the French meeting in this morning's paper is as follows: "It is known that that show is mounted on the golden rod, and that it is to do its work." J. G. La Sarre, of Chicago, was asked to speak. The hall where the meeting opened, was well filled about 200 French voters being there. Mrs. LaFevere presided. At the opening, C. Tremblay arose and asked the speaker to consent to a debate. He said that the French people are hard workers, and have little time for reading, and that a joint debate would give them the best means to hear.

The crowd applauded, and when Mr. La Sarre saw this he told Mr. LaFevere that he would consent. This was satisfied, and Mr. Tremblay proceeded.

He began by talking of the great Napoleon and the French and English controversies, and of the beauties of protection, and of the beauties of free trade.

Mr. La Sarre then consented to talk on this line, however, and Mr. Tremblay got up and left the hall. Nearly the whole crowd followed him, until finally Mr. La Sarre found himself facing about twenty-five or thirty people.

Outside the hall there was a different scene. J. Bureau was the man who was to have spoken. He had been seated in a chair, and had been placed on a platform, and was told to go ahead. He did it, too, in a vigorous manner, and that open air meeting was one of the best political rallies that has been seen in this campaign.

"Truly," was also asked to speak, and he did it, too, in a strong manner.

Mr. La Sarre then met them, and they were gathered around the speakers while they were speaking.

Mr. La Sarre was to have spoken at West Duluth tonight, but it is understood that all hope of capturing the French vote in Duluth is gone.

Mr. La Sarre is to speak to the French at the Lakeside Towne club this evening at the town hall in Lakeside. Good speakers will be furnished by the Central Towne club.

To the Boys of Duluth.

I appeal to you not to kill the birds and animals and beautify this unharmful city in the United States.

The love of slaughter is inherent in the human race. It is a role of savagery which should be eradicated.

Many of you go to Sunday school where you are often told that

"not a sparrow falleth" without the specific observation of an omnipotent Being.

Do your parents teach you not to kill?

Many of you boys do kill through the agents of parents and teachers, to specially instruct you that it is wicked and that you may be beaten to death.

You are soon to be men and from your ranks will step forth the statesmen and rulers of the country. How many of you can say with Congressman Towne that you never killed

but one bird, and then you shed tears of regret over it. Do you mind the sayings of the great philosophers?

Mr. Bryan Commends the Utterances of an Eastern Paper.

Delivered Several Speeches During His Trip Through Massachusetts.

Made a Speech at Springfield and it Was Cordially Received.

fallen. (Great applause and cheering.) No person can accuse me of attempting to deny to the financiers, or even to the money changers, the right to their money, or the right to have it, even when it is given to every legitimate influence. What I deny to them is this: The right to think for anybody, but themselves, the right to put themselves above other people, and go through the world crying, 'I am holier than thou! I am holier than thou!' (Great applause.)

SENSATIONAL WARNING.

New Coercion Plan Being Adopted in Maryland.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Democratic party has issued a sensational warning to railroad employees in Maryland and adjoining states, to the effect that their corporations, not satisfied with compelling their subordinates in Maryland and other states to turn their devotion to sound money, on the plea that the roads' bonds are payable in gold, have been compelled to issue a declaration to the effect that all men will visit their convictions at the polls, and now issue a declaration suggesting to Democrats who are engaged in railroad work that it would be best for them to refrain from registration, while those known to be in earnest for the Republican ticket are urged to register.

The Democratic claim is that this new plan of coercion employees are being deprived of their citizenship, and they are asked to register, and to do so at once.

The warning comes from the roads that in the event of Bryan's election wholesale discharges would be rendered necessary, and those who aided in bringing that about to pass would be the first to suffer.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 25.—Greatly impressed by a 24 hours sleep William J. Bryan left Hartford at 11:16 a. m., to "invade the country's" still further. There was a small crowd at the depot to catch a parting glimpse of the nominee and to those Mr. Bryan made a few remarks. He told them that the money changer was interested in having a dead dollar, and that a dead dollar means hard times to the producer of wealth. There was a short description of existing and existing in the way of enthusiasm. On the train was a committee from Springfield. The first stop was at Windsor, Vt., where the crowd gathered, carrying the banner "McKinley and Prosperity." There were a few cheers for him by part of the crowd and more cheers for his opponent. At Windsor he made the next stop. At Springfield he was received with a standing ovation. Everybody wanted to shake hands with him and call on him. He said, "I am glad to see you, but this is the extent of his address and even that was unplanned. Thompson also gave him a splendid reception and he was cheered by the few hundred people gathered about the depot.

The Washington Times—(Special to The Herald.)—The Populist campaign text book will soon be issued. It will contain contributions from Senators Stewart and Butler in answer to Senator Sherman's statement that there was nothing secret about the destination of silver and that Congress throughout the year had been doing the same. They will show from the Congressional Globe that the day before the bill was passed went into the Senate chamber and that the members had to lead spectators to believe him a friend of the white metal. Next morning the bill was introduced and the message came in more than one message from the mere reading of it, as it was of little consequence and not worthy of discussion. This silence of the Senate is a violation of the spirit of the bill, and it could never have passed had its true nature been understood.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Pitching and Lake Angeline mines will close down tomorrow, throwing 600 men out of work. The miners have submitted a proposition to the management to take their pay in due bills, but they have not been received, and a general cessation of work is regarded as inevitable. The suspension is for an indefinite time.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Car-rige has returned to the city after a few weeks' absence at Buzzard's Bay, where he was the guest of the president. The secretary was busy with his mail this morning and said that he had not yet had an opportunity to give any consideration to the larger number of individuals who had written to him with political addresses during the remaining weeks of the campaign. In a general way, however, he can conclude that the number of individuals who have written to him in this connection, but the necessity of soon beginning the laborious task of writing his annual report would certainly prevent him from doing so until the fall of this year.

Resolutions Adopted at Asbury Church Conference on Wednesday.

They Request the Reappointment of Rev. Robert Forbes.

Reception For Father Corbett This Evening--Other News Notes.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the fourth quarterly conference held at Asbury Methodist church on Wednesday:

Whereas, the fourth year of the pastorate of Rev. R. Forbes is now closing; and,

Whereas, during the four years of his pastorate, he has labored under the severest financial strain known in the history of our country; and,

Whereas, coldly through the fidelity and ability of his pastor, our church is in better condition than at any time in its history; and,

Whereas, in view of the financial depression other churches have closed, and ours has maintained its regular services; and,

Whereas, this is due mainly to the fact that Dr. Forbes has been able to give some time to outside work in dedicating churches, supplying vacant pulpits and filling other positions;

Whereas, he has not in the least neglected his pulpit and pastoral duties, but has supplied his pulpit in his absence, particularly during his pastoral duties when at home; and,

Whereas, our people and the public generally love him as an able minister of the New Testament;

Therefore, be it resolved by this quarterly conference that we unanimously request Bishop Warren to appoint Dr. Forbes as pastor of Asbury church for the next year, and that we assure him that we can give him much in the nature of the case be entirely inadequate, we know of no man upon whom we can so implicitly depend to be our pastor, to be our pastor and a friend. We hope for better days to come "by and by"; when we trust, we shall be able to compensate him for his services and his financial loyalty and devotion; but if such better days do not come next year, we can depend on the man who has so implicitly served us during the four critical years past. Every interest of the church has been cared for, and our congregations are larger than during any previous season. Our finances are in excellent shape, and if that doctor can be allowed to remain with us we are sure of an prosperous year.

FATHER CORBETT'S RECEPTION.

The following is the program to be given at the reception in honor of Father Corbett, at Great Eastern Hall, tonight:

Mr. Metcalf, Miss Weissmiller and Professor Oelschlaeger.

Vocal solo, "Legend"; C. B. Baker.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department Weather Bureau, Duluth. Synopsis of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a.m. central time, Sept. 25, 1896. The weather has been attended with high southwest to northwest winds in the northern Dakotas, Minnesota, and the upper lake region, with thundershows in the north. Some winds have been general in the above named sections, and thence southwest over the central states. The weather has been generally cooler than yesterday throughout the region between the Rocky mountains and the Great Lakes. Frost is reported as far south as Central Nebraska. In the Mississippi valley, winds called the "two signals" are displayed. The winds, east and west, southerly winds continue, and the temperature is generally about 10 degrees cooler than at the corresponding hour yesterday.

Duluth temperature at 7 a.m. today, 54; maximum yesterday, 55; minimum yesterday, 54.

Wind forecast for Duluth and vicinity: Fair and cooler tonight; probably with frost. Saturday fair, with some winds. Windy and cool again in force this afternoon and tonight. Storm, northwest winds. On the upper lakes: Shallow, east and west, southerly winds continue, and the temperature is generally about 10 degrees cooler than at the corresponding hour yesterday.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Forecast until 8 p.m. tomorrow: Fair, Wisconsin: Clearing this morning, fair, with some winds. Saturday, probably frost in central and west portions tonight; brisk to high winds in the north. Sunday, with frost tonight; Saturday fair; brisk westerly winds. On the upper lakes: Shallow, east and west, southerly winds continue, and the temperature is generally about 10 degrees cooler than at the corresponding hour yesterday.

TO SAVE OUR PRODUCERS.

Mr. Hopkins having been completely routed in his contention about the advantages of the Indian wheat raises in competition with the American producer of wheat and in relation to the prices of commodities in India; having been compelled to abandon each position that he took and beat an ignominious retreat, another gold monetarist has come to his rescue and endeavors to recover some of the ground from which his goldbug friend was driven. In a letter to The Herald, published in another column, Henry F. Greene, very ingeniously tries to belittle the principal points which were involved in the discussion upon which Mr. Hopkins rashly entered, and by misrepresentation of the statements made by The Herald seeks to score a few points in favor of the gold standard and against the restoration of bimetallism. It is proper to state that Mr. Greene, like Mr. Hopkins, is a gold monetarist, and does not believe in bimetallism, either independently or by international agreement.

The point which both Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Greene overlook is that the Indian wheat grower and the Indian laborer know nothing whatever about gold prices. Silver is the monetary unit in India, and the price of silver, as compared with commodities there, has practically not varied. Commodities in India have not fallen 50 per cent. value since 1873, because commodities in India are and have been measured in silver, and a commodity will exchange now for practically the same amount of silver that it would in 1873. The wages of the laborer in India have not declined; if they have been any change, they must have risen with the increased production of wheat and consequent greater demand for laborers. The Indian wheat grower has gained no advantage in any depreciation of the wages of his labor, because there has been no depreciation. Nor has he any advantage by any fall in the price of what he buys in India, because the price of everything he buys is measured in silver and always has been and silver, as measured by the commodities he buys, has remained practically stationary. These facts completely upset the very ingenious argument which Mr. Greene has so carefully constructed. The foundation being destroyed, the whole structure naturally falls to the ground. It is surprising that a man of Mr. Greene's intelligence should have been led into such serious errors and the only explanation apparent is that he is too close association with Mr. Hopkins and his peculiar ideas.

"How could free silver benefit the American producer?" Mr. Greene asks in closing. It will help the farmer, increasing the volume of money and thereby raising the price of what he has to sell. Instead of paying 25 for every $1 borrowed, he will return dollar for dollar. Let us suppose an Indian farmer takes 1000 bushels of wheat to Liverpool and sells it there for 50 cents a bushel in gold. He gets therefore 500 gold dollars or their equivalent. He can turn this gold money into silver money or double the amount, assuming that silver is worth only 50 cents today as silver money back to India. He can take this silver money back to India and sell it for 5000 worth of debts or taxes. On the other hand, the American farmer takes 1000 bushels of wheat to Liverpool and sells it for 50 cents a bushel in gold, receiving therefore $500. He brings this $500 back to this country, and with it can pay only $500 worth of debts and taxes. As the value of gold still further increases with reference to silver, the Indian farmer can sell his wheat at a still lower price, and the American farmer must meet him. There can be but one result of this process—the total destruction of the wheat interests of the United States. The complete ruin of the American producer can be averted only by a return to the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver and the consequent re-establishment of bimetallic prices.

THE CRIME OF 1873.

A Cincinnati dispatch to the morning papers yesterday gave the principal points of a signed article by Senator John Sherman claiming that the act of 1873, stopping the coining of the standard silver dollar, was not surreptitiously and clandestinely passed through Congress. He reiterates in this article the old assertions of the goldbug in regard to the "crime of 1873."

Senator Sherman's statement is directly contradicted by the statements made upon the floors of congress by senators and representatives who voted for the act of 1873 and who declared most recently that they were not aware that the standard silver dollar was omitted from it and by President Grant's statement that, had he known that the bill demonetized silver, he would not have signed it. Senator Sherman is also flatly contradicted by himself. He reiterates in this article the old assertions of the goldbug in regard to the "crime of 1873."

When silver comes rising prices will fall and slowly and surely we shall get back to profit for production, good times, solvency for all; that has not previously succeeded. But before that comes a good many industries and interests will have perished by the way.

THE DISTINGUISHED GENERALS.

The communication written by an old soldier, in reference to the generals who spoke here last night, which was published in yesterday's edition, has elicited a violent outburst of anger on the part of goldbug origin. Col. C. H. Graves is led to believe that the face is proven to be a fraud.

The Carpet Question

Is an interesting one just at present. Will you look at ours, you people who want good carpets for little money? Examination is all we ask—all we need to ask—examination means the sale—possibly not on the examination day, but when the next carpet is needed. There are mighty few people who, after making sure they can save on their carpet money, will buy elsewhere. We mean just what we say—every word of it. You'll simply throw away money on your carpets if you buy anywhere else.

You Cannot Buy

CHANGED ITS NAME.

New Company to Run the Duluth & Winnipeg.

The Duluth, Superior & Western Railroad company, which is the new name under which the Duluth & Winnipeg road will be operated, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday. The articles state the purpose of the company to be the construction of a line westwardly from Duluth or "some point in its vicinity" to Superior, and thence to the city of Winona, 1 mile northwestern corner of the state, either on the Red river, to the north, or on the northern boundary between the river and Lake of the Woods, or to the city of Winona.

The capital stock is placed at $3,000,000, and the incorporators are W. W. Weston, R. R. Koenig and S. R. Leavenworth, all connected with the Duluth & Winnipeg and South Shore roads; Charles P. Heekels, Charles Litzky and George C. Hamilton of Minneapolis; George L. Johnson, P. B. Holmgren and Frank Jones, of St. Paul, all connected with the S. S. road.

VETERANS

Old Soldiers Talk McKinley and Gold at the Car Barn.

Principal Address Was By Gen. Sickles, of New York.

Gen. Stewart Proved to Be a Very Eloquent Talker.

An audience of between 2000 and 2500 people, about half of whom were ladies with a liberal sprinkling of children, was addressed at the street car barn last night by Gens. Sickles, Howard, Alger and Stewart and Corporal Tanner. It is seldom that such a galaxy of famous soldiers is gathered together, and it was the attraction of such an assembly of warriors, undoubtedly, that brought out such numbers the fair sex, even though it was to witness a battle royal.

The party arrived at 150 West Superior at 5 o'clock where it was met by a reception committee of ten members of the Union Veterans' Protective League who had occupied a private room in the rear of the car barn and took them prisoners.

A stop of about an hour was made at the car barn, the party being entertained by the car barn girls.

After the car barn girls had been introduced, the speaker, Gen. Sickles, who was the first to speak, said: "I am a Democrat."

"I am a Democrat," said he, "and therefore I am opposed to Bryan."

"Bryan is a good boy," said Gen. Sickles, "but he is a fool who speaks like a boy."

Gen. Sickles was the first who spoke.

EXCITING

Bay State Democracy Are Having a Mixed-Up Time at Boston.

Silver Men Nominate Geo. Fred Williams For the Governorship.
Christopher T. Callahan, of Holyoke, is Named For Lieutenant Governor.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 26.—Not for eighteen years, at least, if ever in the history of the Democratic party in Massachusetts has the day of a state convention been so full of excitement and so full of importance to the formal organization.

The assembly of delegates and so much uncertainty as to the developments of the convention.

As a result of the refusal of the state committee, which is controlled by the gold standard men, to admit delegates to the convention hall by credentials alone and not by the ticket, and the sensational speech of George Fred Williams, the silver leader and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, daylight found over 500 silver delegates intrenched in Music hall, while the committee, meeting at 11 o'clock, determined to remain until the meeting adjourned, in spite of all opposition, while the state committee and the gold men were in conference at the Quincy house, trying to formulate a plan to get the palighted delegates holding credentials was begun.

Hundreds of delegates were gathered in front of Music hall clamoring for admission when the hour for the announcement of the doors arrived. T. W. Conley, editor of one of the silver leaders, appeared on the outside to organize and send a committee to organize and name a hall where the men in bringing about the opening of the convention. In the hall, Mr. Conley said, were about 700 duly accredited delegates holding their tickets on the inside, and his advertising friends had held the door on the outside. The outsiders adopted Mr. Conley's suggestion and turned back. Williams could be brought into the hall was spent in speech making. At about 11:30 o'clock Mr. Williams reached the scene.

Mr. Williams and others knew why the delegates were not admitted to the hall, but undoubtedly he would have some knowledge, as soon as the committee had been sent to him on the adjourned session.

"When we get inside," he declared, "we will admit every man who has credentials." He added.

HOPKINS IS ILLUSORY.

In an attack on a statement in Mr. Hopkins's speech in congress, Mr. Hopkins says in the News that "now less than 5 per cent of the business of the civilized world is done with actual money." It will be interesting to learn upon what authority Mr. Hopkins makes this bold assertion. Where has he any proof of this statement? It is true that similar statements have been made before, but this is no reason why Mr. Hopkins, who is such a stickler about "auroborders," should say so without presenting at the same time the authority upon which he relies to support his claim.

But, even assuming that Mr. Hopkins is right in asserting that 95 per cent of the business of the civilized world is done with credit, how does that refute the position of bimetallists that the fall in prices is due to the contraction of the money of the world, as a result of demonetizing silver? The trouble is that Mr. Hopkins and other gold monometallists confound credit and promise to pay money with money. The volume of bank credits and paper money is dependent ultimately upon the volume of basic money upon which the credit fabric rests, and a contraction of this basic must lead to a contraction of the former. The superstructure in the book on "The Effects of the Gold Standard," Dr. W. H. Smith says: "The volume of basic money fixes the volume of representative money (paper money issued by the government). In turn the volume of basic money controls the volume of credits; that act as money, and the quantity of these with the exchanges to be made and payments to be met, fix prices. Thus indirectly the prices of commodities in a country are fixed and controlled by the volume of basic money." This is a correct statement of the quantitative theory of money.

But the conclusion of the gold monetarists that, because bank credits is the basis of 95 per cent of our business, the demonetization of silver could not have led to any appreciable fall in prices is not logical. What is right in his book on "Bimetallism," says: "The statistics of credit, with the legal tender and treasury notes are issued by the government, have been so construed that this paper is redeemable in gold alone. Thus the paper money issued by the government is based on gold, and just as the government paper is redeemable in gold, the banks are required to redeem all the credits they have granted their customers, or in gold coins or standard silver dollars, which latter they have systematically discredited, and have urged the legislative branch of the government to declare war for redemption in gold alone. All the credit money issued by the banks—national, or state, or other—they have undertaken to pay in lawful money of the United States, which, under the ruling first of Mr. Foster and now of Mr. Carlisle, is based on gold alone. Hence all bank credits are practically redeemable in gold."

Thus it is clear that the issue of bank credits is limited by the amount of money which they hold for redemptions, and to decrease the amount of actual money must lead to a proportionate contraction of the volume of credit money.

THE BONDHOLDERS' OFFER.

Provision having been made for a supply of money to construct the new intake and pumping station and to lay a main from Lakewood to the city, the attention of the public is now naturally directed to the negotiations which are pending between a committee of the council and representatives of the bondholders, now known as the purchase of the Duluth Gas and Water company's plants by the city. The Herald has already expressed the belief that, if some concessions are made by each side, an arrangement can be reached for the purchase of the water and gas plants by the city upon terms that will be satisfactory to the people. There should not be any unnecessary delay in reaching such an agreement, because the earlier the city can gain possession of the plants, the earlier the people of Duluth will be assured of an abundant supply of pure water. If the bondholders of the company and the city cannot agree upon a price satisfactory to both, the result will be a further delay in securing pure water and consequent injury to the city.

The price named by the bondholders is less than the sum stated in any proposition that emanates from the bondholders of the company, so that the wisdom of the people in voting down the last proposition is proven. But it is not reasonable to expect that any future proposition would name any lower price than that at which the complete plant is now offered to the city, and for this reason The Herald would urge that it is wise to make a strong effort to reach an agreement now and thus settle the water problem for all time, removing thereby one of the greatest impediments now existing to the growth and progress of Duluth.

A letter written by Charles H. Coffin, vice president of the Municipal Investigation Commission of Chicago, to Mr. Washburn in relation to this matter was published recently in the Tribune, but many citizens did not see it, and therefore The Herald has been requested to give it space. This letter gives a very complete review of the question from the standpoint of the bondholders, and it must be admitted that it is very fair in its treatment of the various points involved in the discussion. Mr. Coffin is a man of great experience in financial affairs and stands high in investment circles on account of his ability, sound judgment and eminent fairness in his dealings. The Herald would urge every citizen of Duluth to read carefully the letter which Mr. Coffin has written, which can be found on the ninth page of this issue, in which he gives the reasons why, in his opinion, the city would be making a good, wise and cheap purchase of the company's plants and franchise. If the proposition of Messrs. Gay and Cole were accepted.

BISMARCK'S VIEWS.

It is amusing to note the squirming of the goldite organs in regard to Prince Bismarck's letter to Governor Culver of Texas, expressing his adherence to the principle of bimetallism and saying that the independent action of the United States in restoring silver as standard money of full redemption power would lead to an international agreement on bimetallism. The goldite organs appreciate very thoroughly the great effect of Bismarck's words on those who have been hesitating as to the ability of this country to go it alone, and particularly the independent action of the United States in restoring silver as standard money of full redemption power would lead to an international agreement on bimetallism. In Duluth's Social Circles

The first Assembly party of the season was given last evening at the Swallow and no social affair in Duluth was ever a more complete triumph. The young men could not but feel a pardonable pride as they contrasted it with the modest little parties which they gave when they first organized two years ago. The party was delightful in every way. There were a number of ladies from abroad and this always lends interest to a party. Hoare's full orchestra of twelve pieces played and the music was of the very finest. During the evening the waltzes composed by Miss Virginia Magoffin and dedicated to the Assembly were played. They proved to be very charming having a sweet, simple, graceful quality which makes them very pleasant for dancing.

The Assembly this year will follow its former custom and have a party every evening on the first Friday.

The present were:

Messrs. and Mmes. G. A. Tomlinson, S. P. Gordon, G. A. Kingsbury, N. C. Kingsbury, D. R. St. Blasie, M. L. Prentiss, Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson, Mrs. G. A. Kingsbury, Mrs. G. A. St. Blasie, Mrs. G. A. Prentiss.

Misses: K. E. Young, of Milwaukee; Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson, Mrs. G. A. Kingsbury, Mrs. G. A. St. Blasie, Mrs. G. A. Prentiss.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Krieger, Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mrs. William Meis, the Misses King, Roberts and Tine, Roberts.

The "Somerset: Yes" will meet next Saturday afternoon Oct. 3 with Miss Elizabeth Spencer at her home, 302 Sexton avenue east.

Professor Ch. Oelschlagel will give a recital with his pupils next week.

Ernest Lachmund and his pupils will give a recital at his studio in the Temple building next Saturday.

Madame Ohstrom-Renard and George Tyler are busy arranging for the opening performance to be given at the Lyceum on Oct. 10. The program will be as follows: The first act, "Faust" to be given are the prologue, the "Faust's studio," the beautiful garden and the prison and death scenes, making three complete acts. The second act, including the most musical scenes of the opera, as well as the main portion of the story. The transformation of Dr. Faust, his meeting with Marguerite, Marguerite's power over him and finally the prison scene, where Marguerite prays to God to save Faust from the Devil's power, and her death.

Mr. Tyler will sing Faust, a role in which he has won fame both in Europe and America. When the program is given at the Minnesota Opera company, some few years ago, a leading paper said of his Faust, the following:

"Sig. Tagliani's Faust is a masterpiece, but his voice has hardly surpassed another's. Another said: 'He is certainly a finished artist, representing the true Italian school and it is safe to predict that he will be a forerunner of this difficult role.' Miss Rebecca Kenzie will sing Marguerite, the most popular work she has ever attempted.

Misses Pauline and Sophie Lohmeling will be Martha, and Arthur Lahay Mephisto. Madame Renard will sing the rôle of Venus.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson, Mrs. G. A. Kingsbury, Mrs. G. A. St. Blasie, Mrs. G. A. Prentiss, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Krieger, Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mrs. William Meis, the Misses King, Roberts and Tine, Roberts.

Miss LaBarre Shepard will give a piano recital Wednesday evening, Oct. 14. She will give twelve numbers and the program will be one which will command interest to every musical audience and will be great fun. Miss Shepard has been a resident of Duluth for two years or more, but has never appeared in a recital and her friends are so pleased that she has agreed to do so.

All who are familiar with her playing know that Miss Shepard is a pianist of more than ordinary talent and has had the benefit of a good education.

And, appreciating this, they have been urging her for some time to give a recital which will give Duluth people an opportunity to hear her. Two or three years ago just after her return from Vienna, Miss Shepard gave a recital at Springfield, Mass., and the Monday evening she said:

"Miss LaBarre Shepard has demonstrated to us in a marked degree, her brilliant talent as a pianist, and we sincerely hope that her great appearance may be a forerunner of the success that is sure to attain.

The Beethoven Sonata (Pastorale) was given with great brilliancy and which is rare, was enthusiastically received. We must also mention the beauty of interpretation of the Bach Gitarre in the Chorale Scherzo, B minor, and the exquisite bit of writing of her masterly tutor, Theodore Leschetzky. "Lie Source."

The production of "The Legend of Don Munro" at the Pilgrim church Wednesdays and Thursdays was a great success, well as Arthur G. Drake was a very worthy musical event and was well received. The solo parts were carried by Miss Rebecca Kenzie, Miss Shepard, Miss C. B. Parker and Charles McAlister. Mrs. John Lomax was the organist. Miss Ivy Audrus, of Superior, and Professor Oelschlagel gave a fine violin duet.

Miss Jessie Belle Sheldon gave a very pretty dimity party yesterday evening at her home on West Second street. Those present were: Miss Strayer, Miss Frazee, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Spencer, Miss C. B. Parker and Charles McAlister. Mrs. John Lomax was the organist. Miss Ivy Audrus, of Superior, and Professor Oelschlagel gave a fine violin duet.

LONDON

Work of Venezuelan Commission Experts There Is Nearly Completed.

A Bit of Russian Romance Recalled By the Czar's Visit.

Another Polar Expedition and Some Gossip of the Theaters.

London, Sept. 26.—(Continued from the Associated Press)—So far as the metropolis was concerned, September third was an uneventful day. First, the exceptionally nasty rainfall and the great gale of yesterday, which was sweeping the coasts of the British Isles, doing much damage to shipping and cutting off much of London's telegraphic communication with the outside world. The effect on business was notable. Secondly, the "death rate" for London has been extraordinarily light, falling last week to 14.6 inhabitants, or London, as against an average of 15.1 for every 1,000 inhabitants in these great powers in the country.

Mr. Bury, the expert who is examining the British archives on behalf of the Venezuelan commission, appointed by President Cleveland, and his colleague, Dr. Keen, are still in London, though not yet to take their departure. In an interview with the Associated Press, Mr. Bury said: "Dr. Keen and I will start for The Hague on Saturday. We have finished our work here, the records are all in order, and have seen everything they have bearing on the Venezuelan boundary, the officials in the colonial office producing especially full and accurate information on many points that are only hinted at in the British archives at The Hague. We have seen, for instance, the original documents of the fact as adduced, even although they did not touch upon any question of importance in connection with the controversy."

With the exception of a few papers which were submitted to us by the British officials were revised. For this reason, as well as of one research in London, we did not leave until after we finished up at the British museum Friday. We have had several discussions with the officials relating to the correspondence, and the facts adduced, even although they did not touch upon any question of importance in connection with the controversy.

BRAVE SPIRITS BROKEN.

How often women wake up in the morning cheerful and happy, determined to do so much before the day ends, and yet—

Before the morning is very old, the dreadful BACK-ACROSS appears, the brave spirit sinks back in武装, how hard she struggled, the "clutch" is upon her, she falls upon the couch, crying—"Why should I suffer so? What can I do?"

Lycia E. Pinkham's "Vegetable Compound" will stop the torture and restore courage.

All such pain come from a deranged uterus. Trouble in the womb blots out the light of the sun at midday to a vast number of women.

Be advised, as many others have done and are doing—procure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at Leadville at first, but when they came to the train all but seventy-six had "hunked." The cause of this, he said, was fear.

Last Sunday a letter, supposed to be from some member of the Leadville Miners' union, reached Joplin and was taken to the miners who agreed to keep all Missouri miners to keep away from Leadville. The coroner was not notified and the cause of death was not known.

J. L. Prosser, of 504 London road, was doubly surprised last evening. On arriving at his home at 6 o'clock he found a large party of his early friends gathered in honor of his birthday. They brought with them a veritable feast of dainties and flowers, and numerous gifts. After the hours of social enjoyment, the first surprise was followed by the arrival of another party of Duluth and Superior people. Mr. Prosser was completely surprised and the occasion was one of great pleasure to all.

Object to Loafers.

The following notice was placed on a large placard and pasted up in the window of Morrison & Smith's establishment, next the "goldbug" headquarters, today:

"Wanted—A few more loafers to stand in front of this store, ogre the ladies and spit tobacco juice on the sidewalk."

Patience seems to have ceased to be a virtue with Morrison & Smith, and they probably have just cause for their disgust.

No More Credit.

The Real Grocer's association, of which nearly every grocery store in the city is a member, has decided on a new "code." After Oct. 1, no store in the association will open its books to new credit customers. This action has been taken for mutual protection. The grocers claim that they can stand at one place as long as they can and then change to another, and it is to prevent this that the agreement was made.

HATS, GRAVE AND GAY, FOR THE AUTUMN GIRL.

THE WORLD OF FASHION.

THE TEA OR MORNING GOWNS.
The tea gowns or morning gowns are surely among the best beloved garments of woman, and nowadays they are made so elaborately that many of them are the daintiest of costumes. Some are particularly beautiful both in style and texture. They are made of soft crepe, fine lace, and muslin. Some are made with large bows, having bows both back and front, though the outline of the figure is suggested by a tightly drawn sash underneath. Others have the figure of Watteau as a background for the tight-fitting gown in front. One gown is of soft, rich silk in blue and pink. The loose folds show a deeper shade of rose than the front of the gown. It is ornamented with opalescent embroidery about the front of the gown, heading a full pleated ruff. The ruff is composed of a black satin waistband with long ends and a bow. The finely pleated chiffon on the neck and sleeves is in the two shades of silk and is trimmed with opalescent embroidery.

You can have a pretty morning gown of soft light blue crepe with draped top and light blue softest red. The gown falls from a square black velvet collar. The blue undergown is fastened under a belt across the front; but as a rule they are fastened on the left arm and on the shoulder. The broad velvet collar is fastened on the gown with bows, giving ample fullness and having a less stiff effect than the Watteau. Creamy lace edges the ruffles and trims the waist.

The front of another gown is a finely pleated pale mauve crepe gown, composed with a dark red. The sleeves are fastened under a belt across the front; but as a rule they are fastened on the left arm and on the shoulder. The broad velvet collar is fastened on the gown fastened in this way. A pretty princess gown for a young lady is of pale blue and the stiffening is about the belt and you are of black velvet. The sleeves are fastened with a row of silver buttons. The yoke is of guipure lace over blue, and the tight shirred sleeves, with a very minute pattern, are mounted by particularly pretty epaulets, which are quite the feature of the gown. The sleeves are trimmed to show the white cloth underneath. The epaulets, points, and other trimming to match the bottom of the skirt, says the New York Times.

While the sleeves were so large all women and all gowns looked much alike, but now individuality of form and more taste are still to be shown in new effects in the combinations of the silks and woolens which will be used in the semi-season collection. The skirts are to be worn much trimmed with a new coarse lace, Bulgarian, Croatian, and other embroideries, in Lyons or any cretonnes, one or two embroidery protected and relieved by an edge of colored braid, gold cord, or narrow black velvet. The yoke of the dress is of black velvet, and two gray and white sash gulls standing erect on either side.

LIGHT GARDEN GOWNS.

A light, gauzy gown is of delicate pink or pale blue with broad bands running the length of the skirt, bordered with sequins of different colors. The waist is fastened with the same brocade in a set design. The puffed sleeves are of dark gray cloth relieved by insertions of white cloth. The gown and sleeves are stitched to show the white cloth underneath. The epaulets, points, and other trimming to match the bottom of the skirt, says the New York Times.

In another, the skirt is of organdy, shaded from deepest to palest mauve as a groundwork, and over this is an antique lace design worked in the muslin. The last is a gown of guipure lace with a band of gold. The antique buttons are of gold. The band across the bust is of gold braid studded with jewels. The yoke and sleeves are of black lace and the sleeves are jewelled lace over plaitings of white.

PARIS NOVELTIES.

Pretty Things in Some French Underwear.

There is a decided change this season in the newest French night gowns. In the newest, the bodice is as wide in the bust as the skirt and divides the jacket from the black satin draped belt, which is crossed in front below the bust. The latest novelty is to have the night robes appliqued with lace designs. Such robes as Duchesse, Cluny and real Valencienne are used in the new fashions effectively, says the New York Journal.

One of the prettiest of the French night gowns is the one with a narrow lace banding line of beading trim the front as far as the waist line, and also defines the shape of a pointed yoke back and front. The neck is cut low in the newest designs. The Duchesse lace are appliqued to the yoke. They also trim the deep fell which falls over the bust. The yoke is cut low in the newest to this, and adding an extreme touch of novelty to the gown, the lace designs are appliqued over the front of the night robe.

The corset cover most in vogue is made with a band of lace.

The yoke is shaped in two points, back and front, and is embroidered with lace.

Mr. Bryan Makes an Appropriate Speech in the Shoe Center.

His Remarks Were Addressed to Factory Owners and Also Employees.

Some Hurried Bits of Campaigning in Massachusetts This Morning.

Boston, Sept. 28.—Mr. Bryan and his escort had a taste of the hardships of campaigning this morning. Having left Bath, Maine, at midnight, where there was a scramble for sleepers, the party was aroused from much needed sleep at 5 o'clock, when Lynn, Mass., was reached. The candidate was billeted for a speech at this place, and at Newburyport; a portion of the Democratic city committee boarded the train to receive Mr. Bryan, and at the Lynn station the other members were in waiting. The committee had provided carriages and had payed the expenses of the Hotel Seymour, where breakfast was served and an informal reception held. Shortly after 7 o'clock Messrs. Bryan and Sewall were seen in the Highland Square, where the stand had been erected. Here Mr. Bryan delivered a brief address.

Mr. Chapman and Fellow Citizens: Our opponents are all the time assuring business men ought to take an interest in this campaign in order to profit from it. They are not. It is always made me indignant that a few people in each community should assume to be the only business men in the town, and always lay upon themselves the burden of forwarding their business interests forward in their business interests. I have always found that any contribution to a nation's wealth or to a nation's greatness, is a business man. (Applause.) The man with the largest business is the one best fitted to protect those small interests of his fellow man with large business interests. He is the right man to speak with Mr. Bryan. The people of Boston have been making efforts to secure the return of the dispatch sent from Worcester to Mr. Bryan, expressing gratitude that their factory was not taken over by the railroad company. The far distance to surrender Mr. Bryan refused to discuss the matter this morning.

Mr. Bryan's departure from Boston was noticeable only for the enthusiasm evinced by the 1500 people who saw him aboard the Colonial express at the Franklin station. He stopped upon the platform and dined directly to his yelling admirers. After a short speech he was off again to the interests of the farming classes. He did not produce shoes or boots, but for an hour and a half he sold shoes and, when they are able to buy them, and they cannot buy shoes unless they have the money to buy them, then they sell them. You will see that money, New, you will sell them to the people of the East, of the West and to the world.

If you drive down the prices of all these things which the farmers produce, so that when they sell their crops they cannot make out to pay the taxes and interest and taxes, with money which they have to buy shoes with? Are you going to do that?

After a short speech he was off again to the interests of the farming classes.

He dined his hat and smiled before entering the car. As the train moved away Mr. Bryan appeared on the platform and smiled a good-bye.

THE GEORGIA POPULISTS.

They Expect to Carry the State Election.

Washington, Sept. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. R. Reid, Populist national committee man from Georgia, who was present at the recent national convention of the party at New Orleans, said yesterday that the party was well organized and well prepared to carry the state election, which occurs Oct. 6.

Mr. Reid expressed the utmost confidence in the success of the Populists in the state election, which occurs Oct. 6.

He said: "The Populists are well organized and well prepared to carry the state election, which occurs Oct. 6.

If the party succeeds in getting rid of it, it admits it is not good as bimetallism, but it is good as a standard.

PERILOUS

Severe Trip of the Lick Observatory Scientists
In Japan.

Thirty-Six Hours on Top of a Mountain in a Little Hut.

Fearful Snow Storm Was Raging and Food Had Given Out.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 28.—From advices recently received from members of the Lick observatory eclipse expedition to Japan it is anticipated that the party will arrive here on Friday next. Its home coming is fraught with much interest, for several of its members, Dr. G. E. Shusky, Professor Schubert and Louis Masten, will return much daunted from their tour in Northern Japan selected for the observations that were made, determined to climb the snowy summit of Fujiyama, 12,000 feet above the sea level, notwithstanding the ominous conditions that threatened a severe storm.

The party was marred, writes Dr. Shusky, by extraordinary features until the snow line was well below us. The storm broke furiously upon us at a very short time after we started. It was the most furious that had taken about the snow-clad mountain top for many years. Blizzards rolled in, tornados swept the crags, and we nearly perished. We had thirty-six hours of want, storm bound. Our food supply was exhausted and we suffered much. We searched for shelter and at the summit, in a tempestuous gale, found a slight obstacle to the ferocious in the storm that had raged about.

The party was found at Kobe by Professor Shusky. Dr. Shusky writes under Sept. 3: "We left Goldlina a few days ago after making the ascent of the Fujiyama with the intention of coming directly to the United States. We have no money, however, to pay for the cost of mailing only to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, New York, handwoven durable French cloth binding is desired, send ten cents additional (thirty-one cents in all)."

THE DAKOTAS.

NORTH DAKOTA.—Last Saturday Fred Bissell was commissioned as postmaster at Bismarck, by the postmaster at Washington. Threshers all through the state are now being made, and the market price allows of profits. The highest price paid for shock threshing is 8 cents; some 6 cents for grain. A few days ago H. L. Linton, their candidate in the Fourteenth, A. pleia was likewise entered for Bond, in the Thirteenth district, who is running against Edward Robb, the Democratic candidate. Bond, however, affected a slight obstacle to the ferocious in the storm that had raged about.

The party was found at Kobe by Professor Shusky. Dr. Shusky writes under Sept. 3: "We left Goldlina a few days ago after making the ascent of the Fujiyama with the intention of coming directly to the United States. We have no money, however, to pay for the cost of mailing only to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, New York, handwoven durable French cloth binding is desired, send ten cents additional (thirty-one cents in all)."

SOUTH DAKOTA.—A group of Republicans and Democrats and populists at Yankton Saturday, both county conventions were held and both gave overtures to the populists and suggested fusion. These advances were declined and the Democrats were advised that any communication from them would be considered as a violation of their trust. The populists, however, refused to receive the representation and adjourned without nominating a ticket.

While threshing Saturday morning the party of the threshing big along the Fort Pierre road, when a team of grain and horses was lost, and the horses ran away. A light rain set in, and a flock which, fortunately, put out the fire.

POPE BOB TO TALK.

Republicans Seek the Aid of the Infidel.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Col. Robert G.

Longfellow will speak in Duluth next month and make four or five speeches in the city.

Mr. Longfellow's letter to this effect was received at national Republican headquarters today. He will make his first speech in Chicago on the evening of Oct.

8 in a big tent, and the following day at 8 o'clock in some locality where the largest number of laboring men can hear him. He will then go to Bloomington,

Galena and Galena Falls.

He will remain there until Oct. 10, when he will return to the city.

ARTIST BURNED TO DEATH.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Fred Barnard, the artist of "Black and White," has been

Big Affair.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Paul Vandervoort, of Omaha, president of the Reform Press association, was present at the conference between the Populists and the Democratic convention, which resulted in fusion on the national electoral ticket. He claimed to have been sent by the Chicago branch of the Populist national headquarters for the purpose of demanding what he called "substantive conditions" from the Democrats than the four places on the national ticket. What he particularly desired was the withdrawal of several Democratic congressional nominees in favor of Populists.

W. L. Long, the Populist nominee for congressman in the First district, insisted that the committee bring up the names of the candidates for the Populists.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department Weather Bureau. Duluth Section. was at Duluth for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. (Central time, Sept. 28.)—Rains of high pressure came in by the valley, extending eastward from the Rocky mountains over the Central valleys of the lakes through the highlands of the Southern Wisconsin.

Frosts occurred last night in the lakes region, the Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys, and in the Western states of Colorado, New Mexico, and Texas. Moderate to heavy rains are reported in the Lower Mississippi valley; at the same time, however, there was rain in the past twenty-four hours, and rain still continued at the morning observation. The weather has been fair, with some change in the weather, and the maximum temperatures yesterday in the Upper Mississippi valley and the region north of Montana ranged from 70 to 73 degrees.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 41 maximum yesterday, 60 minimum yesterday. 40.

Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity: Fair and decidedly warmer tonight and Tuesday; brisk southwesterly winds.

JAMES KENEDY,
Local Forecast Official.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow. For Upper Michigan: Fair tonight, with some change in the weather; portion tonight: fresh southerly winds. Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Tuesday; winds shifting to southerly and becoming fresh. Minnesota: Fair and warmer; winds strong and Tuesday: fresh southerly winds.

A GOLDBUG LIE NAILED.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press published a few days ago a story of a confidential story that Flanagan & Co., the well-known dry goods house in this city, had received an anonymous letter, warning them that if they took an active part in the goldbug campaign in this campaign, the union labor men of Duluth would boycott their goods. In addition to this story being false and known to be false by its author, because Mr. Flager had previously stated that it was true, it was an insult to organized labor in Duluth. Yesterday the Pioneer Press published the following letter from the firm:

"Duluth, Sept. 25.—To the Editor: We object to being dragged into politics by you. Your article about us in the paper of Sept. 24 is entirely false. Your reporter called on us yesterday, Sept. 25, I was very frank in my statement that I had not been approached by any customer nor any labor union man, and neither had Mr. Anakee been approached in regard to our political views. Neither was Mr. Anakee asked to present at the public meeting addressed by Donald and P. C. Schmidt. I have also stated to your reporter that we have never received any anonymous letter.

But I requested your reporter not to publish any trash or lies which he might hear from unreliable sources. We have not had and do not anticipate any trouble by our own people, who treat us kindly from all sides. But articles which contain such falsehoods as the one above referred to do more to drive us completely into the silver camp than anything we know of."

"We demand that statements made by us to your reporters shall be considered truthful, the same as our own people consider them when we make a statement to them. A. FITGER & CO."

The goldbug cause must certainly be in desperate straits, when the gold organs are ready to publish such false and insulting stories. It is true that organized labor in Duluth is practically a unit in favor of Bryan, Lind and Towne and the rest of the silver dokes, but the union men here do not rest the right of action to entertain opposite views, which are not in the common business, although most of them may have experienced the coercive influence which is being employed in a vain attempt to whip men into the rapidly dying goldbug cause.

GOLD SYNDICATE AD.

Mike De Young, the boss Hannaford of California, returns from Europe filled with admiration for the foreign bankers who now control the United States treasury and hope to have another hold on it for four years under McKinley. Read it for what it says and see if it does not confirm every word silver men claim about foreign attempts to control the finances of this country.

"We are willing to sacrifice free silver for protection," he said. "We would rather see McKinley in the chair than the Republic of anarchy, free trade and universal ruin to Western growers, who is the candidate of the Chicago platform. In Paris and London I observed the greatest interest in the campaign here. So keen, in fact, is the interest, that a syndicate was organized in Paris to transfer gold money to this country to prevent the threatened raid of bears. Would any honest American think of repudiating any obligation to English creditors, as the Bryan platform would, when they are solicitous for our national reserve?"

THE DISPATCH'S BLUFF.

The St. Paul Dispatch has made a bold stand in answer to Mr. Towne's suit for $75,000 damages for libel. It challenges him to bring the suit to trial in Ramsey county district court by Oct. 15, says, if he will do so, it will pay all costs.

The suit for libel has been begun in St. Louis county, and the Dispatch is being held to have it transferred to Ramsey county. The Herald does not believe that Mr. Towne will bring a change of venue. The Dispatch can secure a fair trial in St. Louis county.

To bring the suit to trial on Oct. 15 in Ramsey county would mean the enforced absence of Mr. Towne from the Sixth district during the greater portion of the last two weeks of the campaign.

The goldbug managers, whose mouthpiece the Dispatch is, would no doubt pay liberally to get Mr. Towne off the stump at this time. They could afford to recoup the Dispatch for any amount of court costs in order to prevent Mr. Towne from keeping up his campaign. But their wishes will not be gratified.

Their hopes will be disappointed, however, if they will be re-elected.

Mr. Towne's suit is an eminence grise as a vindication of his personal character and not as a political bluff.

THE DISTRICT JUDGESHIPS.

Two judges for the Eleventh judicial district are to be elected on Nov. 3. There are four candidates in the field. Judge Ensign's term expires and he is a candidate for re-election. He was nominated by the Republican party, with which he has always affiliated. There is nothing of the extreme partisanship in Judge Ensign's composition, however, and his record on the bench has been free from the slightest suspicion of political bias, and his decisions have been generally regarded as fair, impartial and sound. As a believer in a non-partisan judiciary, The Herald regrets that the other political parties did not endorse Judge Ensign on the ground of his neutrality. Nevertheless, it was consistent that Judge Ensign will be re-elected by the goldbug party, because the people recognize that he is an able and honest judge, who has always endeavored to deal out even-handed justice.

Of the other Republican nominees, William A. Catt, The Herald, speaks in words of commendation. His record does not entitle him to the support of those who desire that the high character of our judiciary shall be maintained. His knowledge of law may be sufficient, but his course as a politician has been such that he would be a dangerous man to elevate to a judgeship.

The influence of the money power, to which Mr. Towne has referred when he alluded to the many newspapers that are lined up on the gold side, is well stated in the following extract from a speech delivered by John Sherman in 1871: "The possession of large property and the ability to earn large income necessarily give to those enjoying this income great influence over public opinion.

They speak through the daily press, from high official stations, from great corporations, from cities where wealth accumulates, and with the advantage of social, personal and delegated influence. I know the power of this influence."

Since he uttered these words, John Sherman has accumulated a fortune of several millions, while drawing a salary of only $5000 a year as senator, and he no longer criticizes the money power.
